

MID

Hence transportation
by car is feasible
between any two cities iff  $d(i, j) \leq L-1$  for all  $1 \leq i, j \leq L-1$ .

The distance
 $d(i, j)$  would then
be defined as the sum of the lengths
producing the
shortest path.