Def:

Any $d: M \times M \to [0, \infty)$ satisfying conditions (i) – (iv) will be called a metric on M.

How could we construct a metric?

Suppose M is a finite set of points. Thinking of these as cities in a given state / region,