What has the syllogism taught us?

① Issues of fact (truth or falsehood) can be put in a set-theoretic context.

② The simplest deductive argument has the form if $x \in A$ and $A \subseteq B$ then $x \in B$